The following is the list of speakers presenting in the seminar series this fall and the titles of their talks. Copies of papers will be circulated in advance of the talks when available.

August 26th  Michael Manville and Daniel Kuhlman, City and Regional Planning, Cornell, “The Social and Fiscal Consequences of Urban Decline: Evidence from Large American Cities, 1980-2010”

September 2nd  Peter Wissoker, City and Regional Planning, Cornell, “Putting the Supplier in Housing Supply”

September 16th  C. Lindsay Anderson, Biological and Environmental Engineering, Cornell, “Targeting Existing Power Plants: EPA Emission Reduction Strategies with Wind and Demand Response”

September 23rd  Xinyue Ye, Geography, Kent State University, “Space, Time and Network: Social Media and Transportation Analytics”

October 7th  Graduate Student Presentations of ACSP Conference Papers

October 14th  Kathryn Furlong, Geography, University of Montreal, “Worlding Water Supply: The Implications of a View from Outside the Network”

October 21st  [No meeting due to faculty and student attendance at ACSP and INUF conferences.]

October 28th  David Kay, CARDI and Development Sociology, Cornell University, “Integration of Smart Growth into New York State Policy and Programs”

November 4th  Graduate Student Presentations of NARSC Conference Papers

November 11th  Annette Kim, Sol Price School of Public Policy, University of Southern California, [Presentation Title TBA]

November 18th  Christa Court, MRI Global, [Presentation Title TBA]

December 2nd  Kieran Donaghy, City and Regional Planning, Cornell University, “Upgrading Inter-municipal Water Infrastructure Systems in Hudson River Communities: A Problem for Isardian Regional Science”

CRP’s Weekly Research Seminar!