Instructor
David L. Funk
Director, Baker Program in Real Estate
Office:  114 W. Sibley Hall
E-mail:  dfunk@cornell.edu
Office:  (607) 255-3291

Schedule
8:30am-9:30am
Thursday
389 Statler Hall

Office Hours:
10am-Noon
Tuesday & Thursday

Assistant:
Clayton Roach

COURSE PREREQUISITES

Enrollment in good standing within the Program in Real Estate or by permission of the instructor.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Special Topics: Real Estate Review provides an introduction to research and writing in real estate and serves as an incubator for developing real estate-related topics in articles suitable for publication in real estate periodicals such as the Cornell Real Estate Review. The course establishes a context and timeline for students to progress towards article completion.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Attendance and contribution in a meaningful, informed way to discussions is required at every class meeting.
COURSE SCHEDULE

The following schedule is tentative and subject to change. The BlackBoard site and e-mail will provide the most up-to-date course information.

I. Module 1
   - Introduction to Research
   - Forms of Research
   - Literature Review

II. Module 2
   - Research Design
   - The Proposal

III. Module 3
   - The collaboration process
   - Identifying co-authors
   - External Funding/Grant Application
   - Research resources
   - Establishing a research/writing schedule

   Due: Review of Literature

IV. Module 4
   - Research and Writing
   - Form
   - Organization
   - Bibliography, citation and attribution

   Due: Proposal Critique

V. Module 5
   - Writing for publication
   - Rough draft review

   Due: Project Schedule

VI. Module 6
   - Preparation for article submission

   Due: Bibliography and Rough Draft

VII. Modules 7-14
   - Review and Revision to completion

   Due: Final Submission