The seminar is based on a simple exercise of making a small scale object. Or a corner space that suggests the way of life. By this exercise, we explore our skills on making, but also explore our own way of looking at and into things. The small scale object gives us the opportunity to get closer to what we talk about in architecture today, based on a project in our daily lives. The projects will reflect life in relation to our medium of experience - BODY - and place offered to be experienced - SPACE -.

Three words ESSENCE – MATERIALITY – SUBSTANCE widen the view on the space we will work on.

VISUAL REPRESENTATION ELECTIVE SEMINAR / Kana Arioka
Cornell University AAP Architecture - fall 2021

Wed 8:30-11:00 am - in person - office hours by appointment - contact: kanaarioka@cornell.edu - grading: letter/3 credits