

OUR PLASTIC FUTURES

MILK CRATE

Filed Sept. 2, 1966

ARCH 4605/6605
Building Technology
David Costanza
dnc52@cornell.edu
Fall 2019
Tuesday 12:20-2:15pm

Our Plastic Futures will unpack the use of plastic materials within architecture, while reframing the conversation around plastic from a cheap, weak, and disposable material, to a valuable, finite resource, with unparalleled properties.

Students will research plastic objects and systems, through the lenses of materiality, manufacturing, geometry, and structure, and will reimagine those systems in an architectural context through a full-scale prototype.